Foreword

The halls are empty now, but the joy, the laughter, and the tears of the past nine months still echo through them. In this 1966 Redskin, we have tried to capture a few of those moments: the Homecoming Dance, the excitement of our winning basketball season, the anticipation of "Auf Wiederschen", of the plays, of sophomore class rings, of skip day, and the journey's end for some, commencement; all these plus the many others that make up the school year. We, the yearbook staff, give this annual to you, the students of Belding High School in hopes that it will help to bring back the many fond memories that you possess in the years yet to come.

Our Administration

Working for Us

Our administrators capably perform their duties to make Belding Area Schools a better system to attend. Mr. Jagger and Mr. Hughes, Junior and Senior High Principals, co-operate with Superintendent Connor to keep our school functioning smoothly. To assist in this project are Mrs. Simmons, Miss Snyder, and Mr. Moody representing the Senior High, and Mr. Middlebrook and Mrs. Lewis from the elementary schools. We, the 1965-66 Redskin Staff feel they have succeeded!

Behind the Scene Heroes

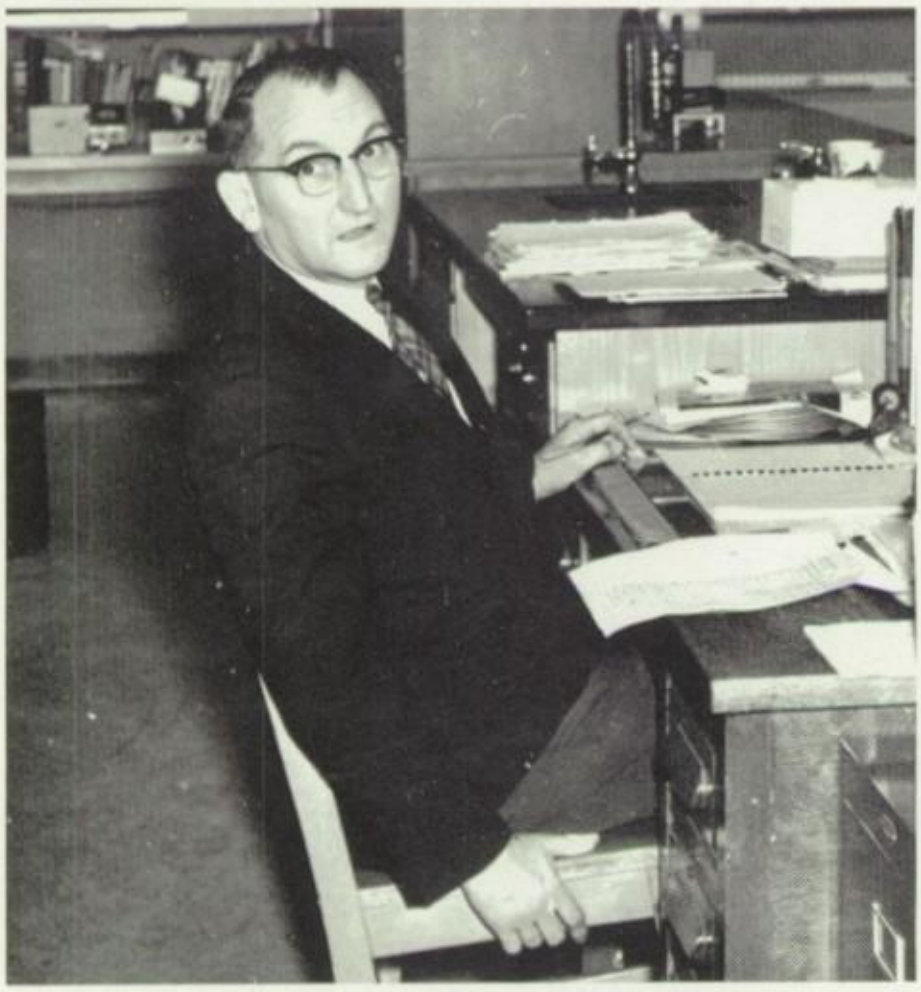
BUS DRIVERS--Purcell Durnell, Norval Dunlap, Stan Kersjes, Bob Hubbert, Goerge Rickert, Dick Arnold, Don Whitney.

Through the co-operation of our bus drivers we have experienced many memorable activities which were made possible during the 1965-66 school year in whatever the class or organizational field it may have been. They also made it possible for the student busses to the away athletic activities. If it wasn't for you it wouldn't have been possible.

The janitors are our unsung heroes. They are hardworking and deserve a great deal of credit for keeping up the school. They perform many duties such as cleaning up after dances, mending broken equipment, mowing grass, and shoveling snow. These men are always reliable and willing to help when they are called upon. To these men we extend our grateful thanks.

Harold Arnold and Harold Johnson, missing is Mrs. Bardford.

We Honor You . . .



Yes, it's you! One of our most devoted teachers in the science department and the person responsible for our first yearbook. Mr. Rose, we honor you for your twenty-two years at B.H.S.

You have not only been a principal but a friend to many. For your nine years of help, understanding, and devotion you've given to the school and students at B.H.S., we honor you, Mr. Jagger.

Mr. Moss, a person truly dedicated to the students. Through efforts you have made possible our school plays and school papers. You have also been instructor of many commercial courses. Without you, B.H.S. would be lacking many of the important events. We honor you, Mr. Moss.

Mrs. Cornwell intrigues her class with tales of famous authors. Through her work with the National Honor Society and her many years of teaching college prep. courses, she has helped promote a better scholastic attitude among the students at Belding High. Mrs. Cornwell, we honor you.

We Look Ahead

o the Future

For the seniors it is finally the end of thirteen long years and the beginning of future; like our motto states, "Hope for the best, get ready for the worst and then take what God chooses to give," this is the most we can hope for and no more.

Student Enthusiasm Makes

the Years Activities

Through the many plays, the different proms, homecoming, and the various musical groups; the activities of the school year shows the burning enthusiasm of the students.

Students and alumni look on as the spotlight falls on the Royal Couple.

Mr. Connor proudly crowns Queen Wanda; as King Nick watches.

"65" Homecomin

Debbie Webster and Joe Knight look at the camera with great pride as they ride by on the winning float.

The band marches on at a set pace as they lead the floats down the street.

epresents One Hundred Years of Progress

November 5, 1965 turned out to be a successful Centennial Homecoming.

Classes spent many weeks preparing their floats for the parade and contest in which they hoped to win the trophy.

At the half-time of the Belding-Comstock Park game the B.H.S. Band came out to introduce the floats and our 1965 Homecoming King and Queen.

After the crowning of Queen Wanda and King Nick, Mrs. Fitzner from the Ladies' Literary Club came down to announce the winner of the float trophy. As she began to speak, a quietness came over the crowd in order to hear her announce that the Sophomore Class won again for the second time in succession, and the Senior Class was runner-up.

After the game there was a traditional Homecoming Dance in which the whole Royal Court was introduced. Queen Wanda Regan and King Nick Ciganik were crowned by 1964 Queen Pat Martina and Senior Representative Dan Byrne. Representatives were: Senior Class -- Linda Olger and Tim Wood; Junior Class -- Connie Bannister and Steve Mapes; Sophomore Class -- Debbie Webster and Joe Knight; Freshman Class -- Connie Smith and Pat Shannon.

It was certainly a memorable event for everyone who attended, especially for the seniors who went for their last Belding High School Homecoming Dance.

During intermission everyone visits and comments on the evening.

Freshman girls passed out the favors.

Junior and

The Aristocrats accented the evening with their enchanting music.

"Well if I had

On Saturday April 30, 1966, the Junior Class of Belding High School honored the seniors with the Junior-Senior Prom called "Auf Weiderschen".

The evening began with dancing and music furnished by a fabulous band called "The Aristocrats". The evening ended with all of the couples leaving for a late supper at their favorite restaurant.

The 1966 Junior-Senior Prom was a memorable event for everyone, especially for the Seniors who have attended their last prom.

"You mean I'm adolescent."

"Have you decided who you're going to invite?"

Frosh and Soph Play

"Gee, Abe, you're a wonderful dancer."

On November 19 and 20, 1965, the Freshman and Sophomore classes presented their comedy play, "Clementine."

It was about a fifteen year old girl who was a tomboy, and didn't like boys. It told about how her friends helped to influence her to grow up, and how she fell in love with a certain young man.

The cast of this play proved that they could put on a very cute play, and also be a big success. The cast also assured us that they enjoyed putting on the play, just as much as everyone else enjoyed watching it.

"Well, Golly, I like you Clem."

Sam looks a little doubtful on how things are working out.

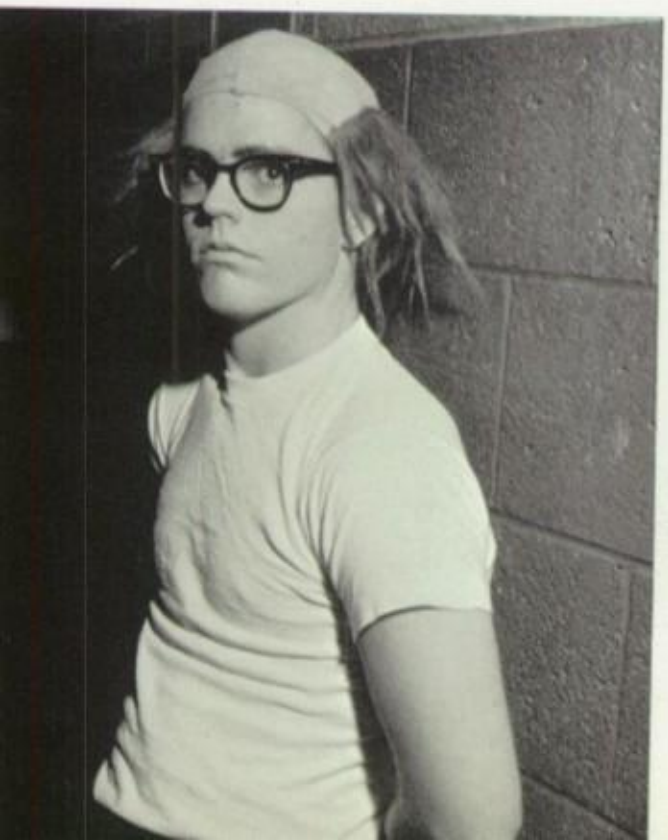
Oh, come now Glorianna.

Junior-Senior Play

Jerry Whitney made a great M.C.

Oh, no! Please"HELP"!

Last minute touches.



The professor in deep thought.

On April 22 and 23, 1966, the juniors and seniors jointly put on an outstanding performance of the play, "The Mouse That Roared".

The play was about a very small country, Grand Fenwick, who tried to take over the United States. Through the actions of Grand Fenwick, it showed how it influenced and affected the people in both countries.

By putting on this play the two upper classes gained more than enjoyment and success, they learned the meaning of team work. This was the secret formula to success of a terrific play.

Combo's Bring the Cool Beat

Don and the Wanderers consists of Bob Thompson 16, bass guitar; John Goodsell 17, rhythm guitar; and Jane Treynor 17, singer for the group. They have played at the FBLA State Convention and in the Battle of the Bands at Comstock Park where they placed first out of 6 other bands. The group has been together for one year.

The Rogues consists of Mike Ward 17, piano, Ransome Bills 17, trombone, Ed Stahlin 16, drums; Tim Van Loo 17, base; Steve Connor 17, cornet. They have played at proms, conventions, skip days, variety shows and exchange assemblies. They tied for fifth place in the Labor Day Talent show. the group has been together for two years.

Fun for Everybody at the Junior High Prom

and Self-reflection

A great part of high school activities is centered around classmates. When you begin as a confused Freshman after two years in Jr. High, when you share the excitement of new class rings as a Sophomore, and when you strive to create a great prom as a Junior, these are the times you'll remember as you look back on these years.

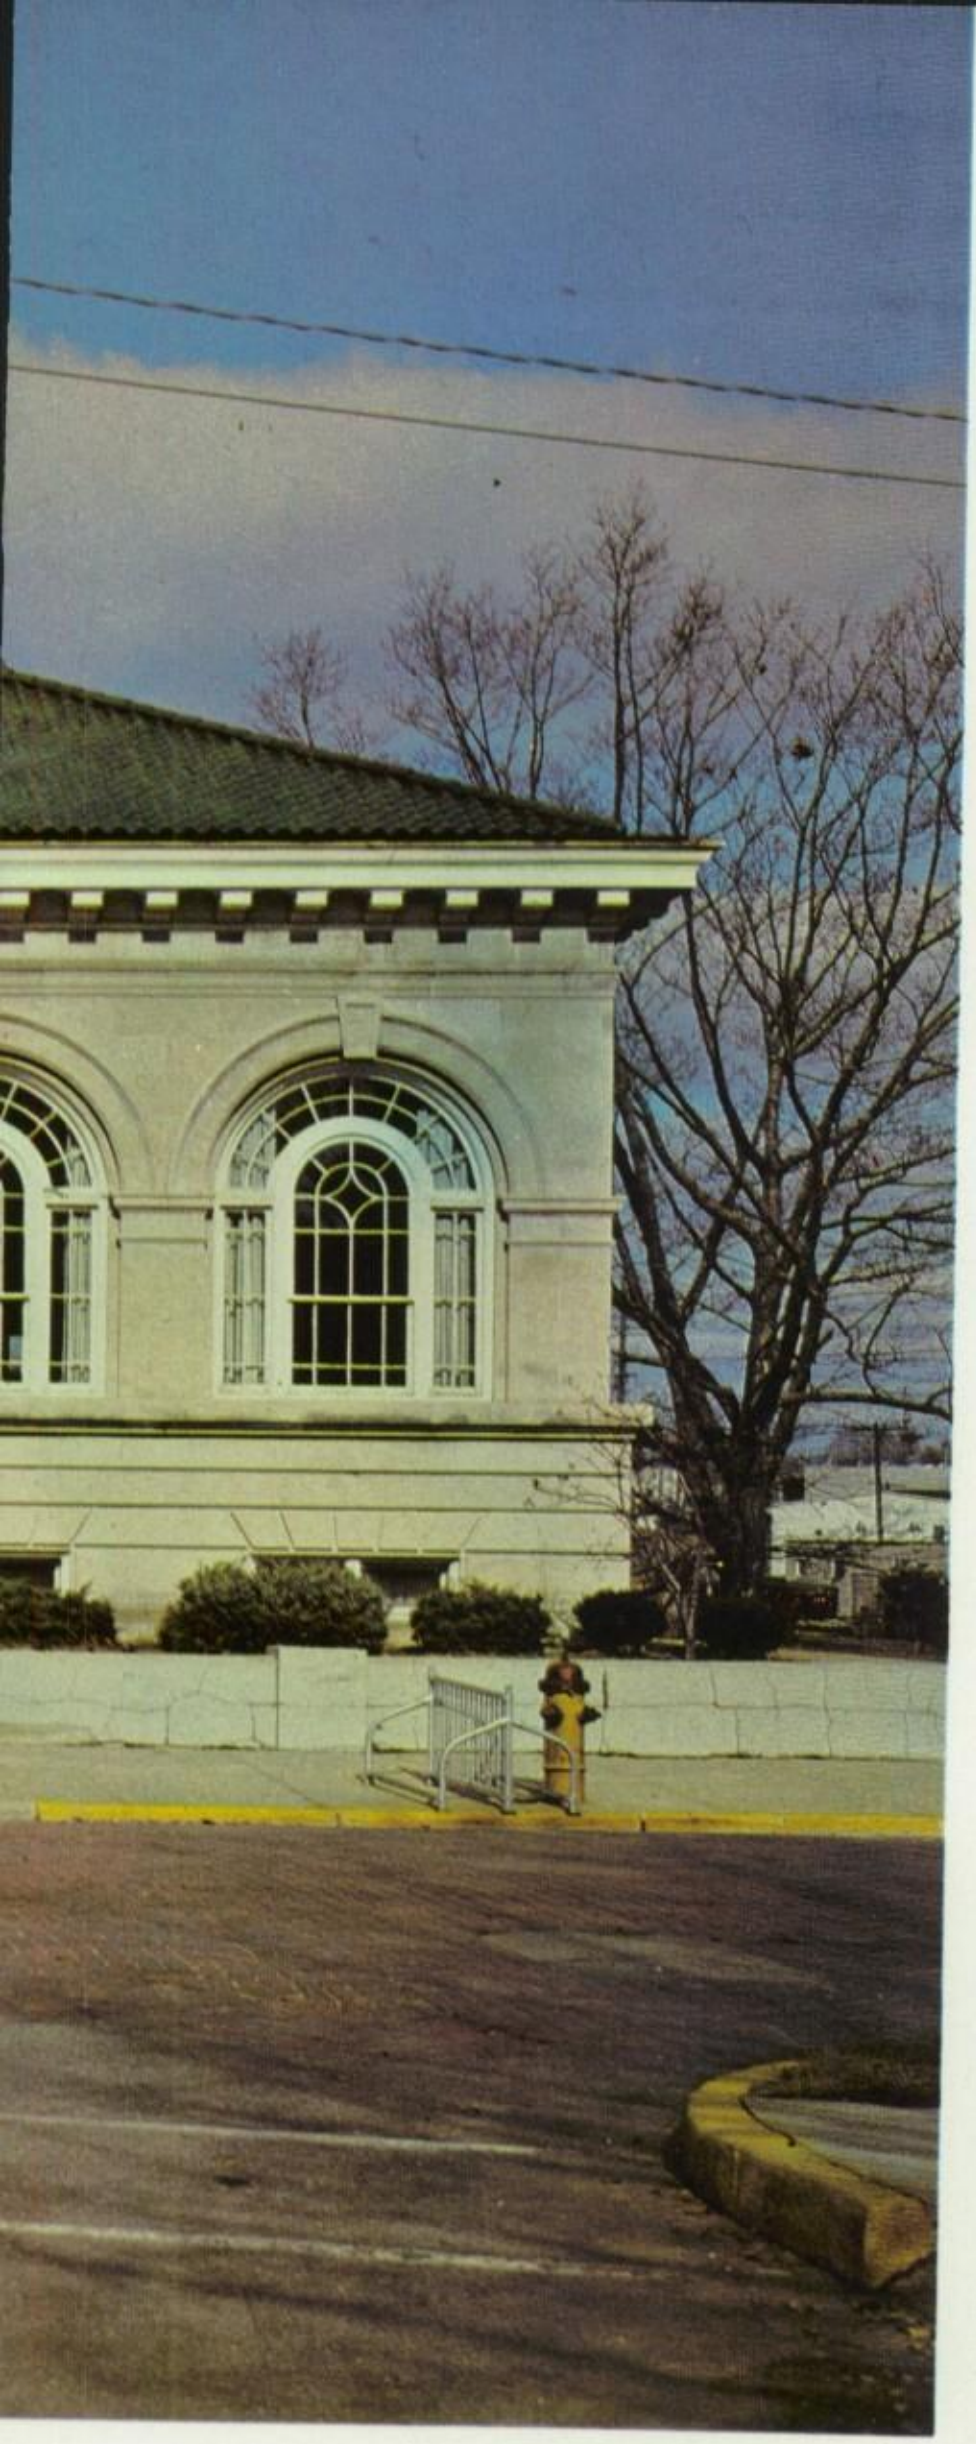
ALVAH N BELDING LIBRARY
AD 1917



"Places of Knowledge"

Many students use both the city and school libraries. Bu like many, they have never really appreciated their true value instead they've taken them for granted.

Our city library is something to be proud of. It surpasse any of the other libraries that can be found anywhere around thi area. The school has also given its students a fine library, s why not use them both with pride.

The first city library was started in 1892, by the Women' Literary Club; it was housed in an upstairs room above a stor on the corner of Pleasant and Main Street.

In 1893, a large fire swept Belding, taking many stores, plus the library. Then the library was later housed in the city hall

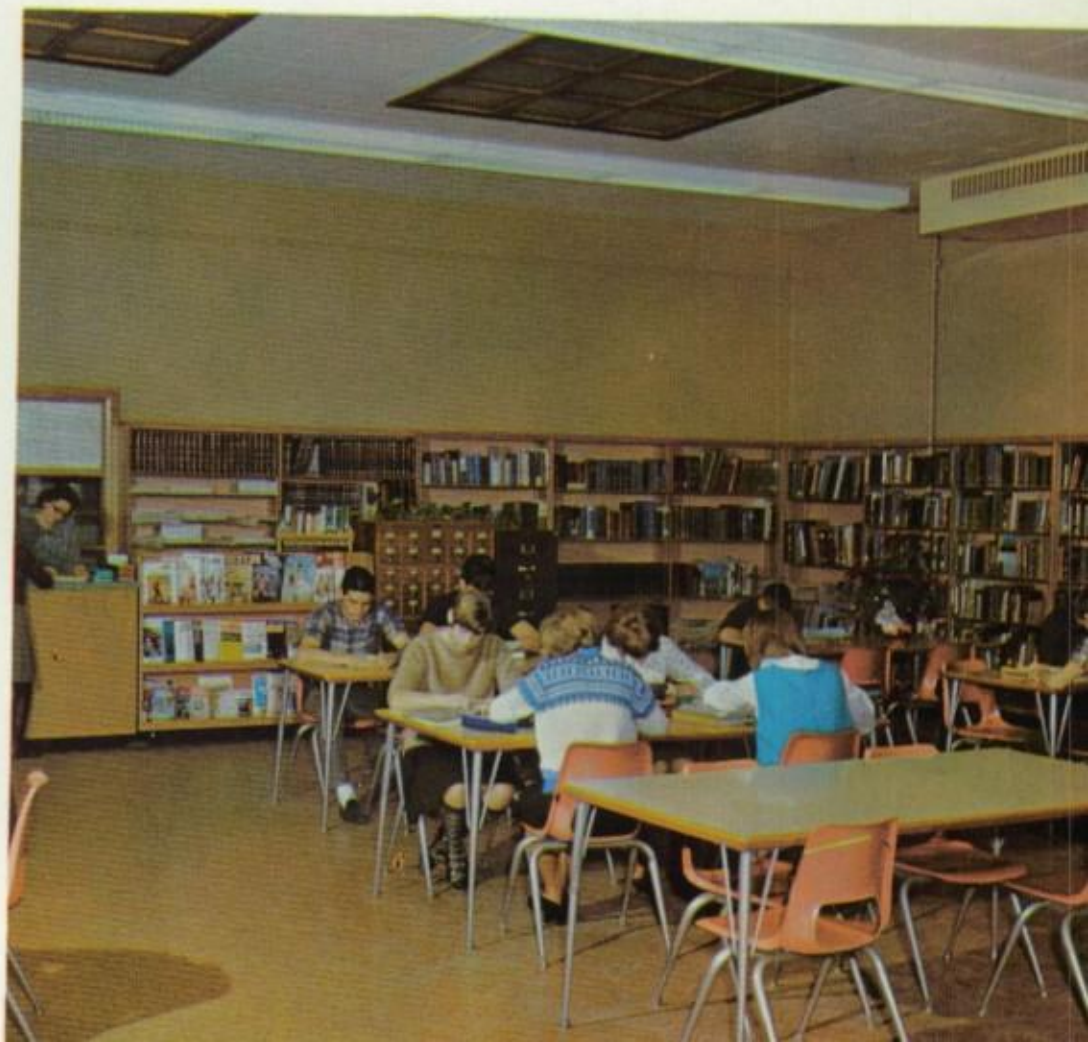
The present library was given by one of the Belding brothers, Alvah N. Belding, a Belding silk mill industrialist at the time. He gave the library in memory of his parents, Hiram and Mary Belding, in 1917.

The city library is supported by the Belding tax payers, penal fines, state aid and grants, plus an abundant fund set up by the members of the Belding family, particularly Mrs. Florence Belding Nuckols, daughter of Alvah Belding.

In 1964, a juvenile department was established in the basement and dedicated in the memory of Ann Marie Cusack, a long-time teacher of Belding area schools.

The city library has now over 20,000 catalogue books, some 3,000 card holders, and employs usually four adults and a few high school pages.

The school library was officially established in 1953. Each year it rapidly grows in size. It has 3,900 books and many magazines, plus an audio visual and record department. It is supported mainly by the school and federal funds and some money brought in from penal fines. It has one librarian, who has student helpers assisting her.



Many

Mr. Moss's F.B.L.A. parliamentary procedure team won first ratings at the state convention.

The schools greate

Phyllis Larson and Vicky Wood, editor and manager of the yearbook received awards of merit from Michigan State University for achievements in journalism.

Pat Wagner and Pam Jackson, co-editors of the Central Outlook staff received awards of merit from Michigan State University for achievements in journalism.

The band has continued to be tops in the state, thanks to the direction of Mr. Ron Phillips.

Honors and Accomplishments complishment was the student canteen.

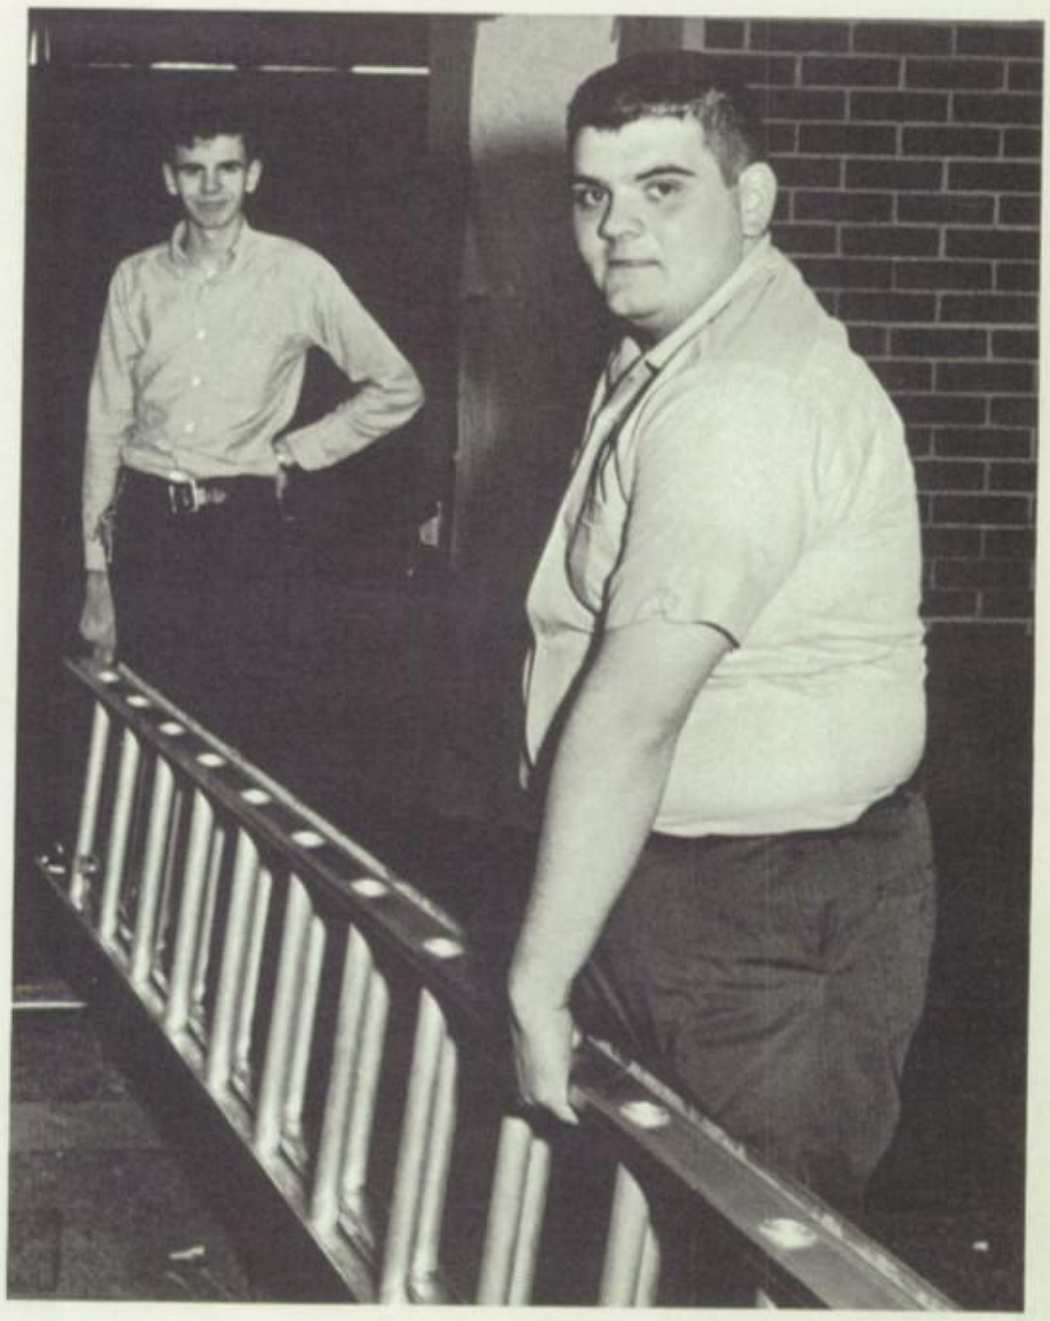
Cathie Reeves was choosen as secretary and Janet Dombroski was choosen as president for the state chapter of F.N.A.

Becky Sailer and Jean Taylor represent Community Service and the fine joy they have done.



Dennis O'Connor and Bill Wortman deserve acknowledgement for the behind the scene things they have done for the school.

Mr. Bird's parliamentary procedure team won gold star state ratings at the state convention.

Students Achieve Much

Through Organizations

Good times through clubs leave fond memories to be recalled after high school years are gone. Organizations unite teachers and students to form a well-balanced all round school program.

Sweet History

Any individual, who has ever taken part in a competitive sport and won, has experienced the tremendous thrill of winning. It's one of the greatest feelings of accomplishment and achievement that a person can experience. As has been said, "Winning isn't everything, but it takes a close second to whatever comes in first!"
